

Date: August 2005
To: Professors and Authors
From: Mike Phipps, Altera® University Program Marketing Manager
Subject: Altera Textbook Support

Altera is interested in working with professors writing textbooks, lab manuals, and published course materials that feature Altera products. These texts should reference or utilize Altera hardware or software in some important way.

Altera will supply Quartus® II Web Edition software and the Nios® II embedded processor OpenCore® Plus evaluation version to the author or the publisher for inclusion in the materials that accompany the published product. We can give you either a “gold master” CD for your duplication or we can supply you with CDs in quantity containing the relevant software.

If you are interested in working with Altera on your textbook project, please contact us at university@altera.com and put the word “textbook” in the subject line of the e-mail.